On July 26, 2017, Governor Greitens signed into law historic pro-life legislation (HCS SS SB 5). The Governor's signature came one day after the Missouri Senate voted 22 to 9 to pass the bill.

This tremendous success would not have been possible without your help and the help of all members of the MCC Catholic Advocacy Network (MOCAN). Thank you!

As passed, the new law requires unannounced inspections of abortion clinics and for the clinics to have emergency measures in place for botched abortions. It ensures that women hear medical information from a doctor before deciding whether to obtain an abortion, largely overturns the St. Louis "abortion sanctuary" ordinance, and prohibits other municipalities from passing similar ordinances. Finally, the law allows the Missouri Attorney General to enforce the state's abortion laws when local prosecutors fail to do so.

The governor's signature was never in doubt, but passage by the Missouri Senate was. The Senate had passed an earlier version of SB 5 on June 15 that largely focused on overturning the St. Louis "abortion sanctuary" ordinance. The Missouri House, however, amended the bill, adding many additional pro-life provisions.

When the Senate took up the House amended version of SB 5, opponents waged a two-day filibuster before sponsor Andrew Koenig (R-Manchester) made a motion to end debate and proceed to a vote on the bill. 19 senators agreed to the Koenig motion, despite a Senate tradition of rarely ending debate by calling for the previous question.

With delaying tactics put aside, the Senate then approved the measure by a vote of 22 in favor to 9 opposed.

Again, thank you for all your help in this great pro-life victory!

Note: Senator Rob Schaaf (R-St. Joseph) was absent and Senator Maria Chappelle-Nadal (D-St. Louis) was absent with leave. Therefore, neither voted on the previous question or on the vote for final passage of HCS SS SB 5. Constituents in these districts will not be able to send an automated message. Pro-life groups laud the passage of Senate Bill 5

Submitted on July 27, 2017

By Jennifer Brinker | jbrinker@archstl.org | twitter: @jenniferbrinker

Pro-life groups across Missouri lauded the passage of a bill they say will protect the health and safety of women and unborn children and provide protections for pregnancy resource centers.

In a special session called by Gov. Eric Greitens, the Missouri Senate on July 25 passed SB 5 with a vote of 22-9.

Greitens signed the measure into law July 26. It pre-empts local governments from enacting ordinances that adversely affect legal rights of individuals based on their views of abortion, requires abortion clinics to be inspected annually and gives the Missouri attorney general greater authority to enforce Missouri's abortion laws.

It also requires abortion clinics to develop plans for managing medical emergencies, requires all fetal tissue (not just a representative sample) from abortion to be sent for pathology exam, provides whistleblower protections for employees involved with abortion, and prohibits abortion clinic workers from instructing first responders not to follow protocol when responding to an emergency at an abortion clinic.

"Today is a great victory for pregnancy care centers that help women and children all over the state," Greitens said in a statement. "I'm proud that many of Missouri's lawmakers stood strong to protect the lives of the innocent unborn and women's health."

Archbishop Robert J. Carlson in a statement said that the measure "will save the lives of unborn children, safeguard the health and safety of women, and protect the freedom of pregnancy resource centers to hire whom they choose. Ultimately, the worth of this special session will not be determined by the money spent, but by the number of lives saved, of which we may never have an exact accounting."

A federal lawsuit filed against the City of St. Louis over ordinance 70459 will continue, according to the archbishop's statement. The lawsuit, filed in May by Our Lady's Inn, St. Louis archdiocesan elementary schools, O'Brien Industrial Holdings LLC and Frank Robert O'Brien, asserts that the ordinance's limited religious exemptions are vague and undefined and do not cover individuals affiliated with organizations that may be exempt. It also forces private businesses to include abortion coverage in their employee health plans, regardless of sincere objections by company owners.

The state legislation addresses the city's ordinance regarding anything related to the direct or indirect involvement with abortion. However, there remain unresolved issues regarding hiring practices, real estate and free speech.

Deacon Sam Lee of Campaign Life Missouri noted that "it's important for people to know as bad as the city ordinance is, it actually spurred state lawmakers into action. This is how God works — He takes bad things and brings good out of them. People can lose sight of that, but this really spurred people into action."

The Missouri Catholic Conference, the public policy arm of the state's bishops, expressed its gratitude for the passage of the legislation, noting the "Missouri senators and representatives who have worked tirelessly to pass this historic bill and uphold the sanctity of life. After the passage of SB 5, Missouri is once again one of our nation's strongest pro-life leaders."

Missouri Right to Life noted in a statement that "we are very grateful to the Missouri House and Senate leadership, sponsors and members for the passage of this critical pro-life bill. We are especially grateful to Governor Greitens for calling this special session and for his support of this strong pro-life legislation."

There is a possibility that the law will be challenged in court. Planned Parenthood Advocates in Missouri released a statement that called the Senate bill an effort to eliminate access to abortion in Missouri.

"Missouri's abortion laws are already some of the most restrictive in the nation. Federal courts have blocked some of those medically unnecessary restrictions," said M'Evie Mead, director of policy and organizing. "This political theater is an expensive and ideological ploy to end abortion access in the state."

<MESSAGEBODY>Dear Gov. Greitens,

Please halt the execution of Marcellus Williams, and commit to seeking justice for the family of Ms. Gayle and for Mr. Williams. It seems by the accounts of the Missouri Catholic Conference that Mr. Williams may have been convicted despite there being a lack of forensic evidence connecting him to the crime. Executing a possibly innocent man in the United States of America is something that should give every American pause. This also could mean that the real perpetrator is free to harm others. At the very least, commuting Mr. Williams' sentence to life in prison is more humane. I am praying for wisdom for you in this case. </MESSAGEBODY>

<MESSAGEBODY>Dear Gov. Greitens:

I'm a Catholic voter. I'm prolife, not just for unborn babies, but for all humans, even those in society who are the worst of the worst. I believe that protecting the lives of even the very bad folks, shows future generations who valuable and sacred human life is.

Today, I am writing you, because I understand there is evidence negating the guilt of this person about to be executed, and for this reason, I urge you to order the execution to be stopped. Below is a copy of the article I received from the Missouri Catholic Conference:

On August 22, the state is set to execute Marcellus Williams, accused of killing Felicia Gayle in her home. There is plenty of forensic evidence in this case, but none of it points to Williams. Trace evidence at the scene included hairs discovered on the victim's shirt and fingernail clippings taken from Ms. Gayle containing blood and skin tissue. None could be matched to Mr. Williams. Bloody foot prints at the scene appearing to belong to a single assailant did not match Williams. Most recently the lawyers petitioned the court to have forensic testing done on the knife believed to be the murder weapon--it could not be matched to Williams. Mr. Williams' conviction was based upon the testimony of two witnesses--one a career criminal and the other a crack addict and prostitute--who claimed Mr. Williams has confessed to them that he committed the murder. They did not come forward for months after the crime and both laid claim to the $10,000 reward for information on the murder.

The hallmark of any justice system is accuracy. Don't let Marcellus Williams fall victim to a murder he did not commit. Contact Governor Greitens to ask him to halt the execution of Marcellus Williams.</MESSAGEBODY>

Laws passed by the special session for the protection and safety of women may have saved a woman's life. Thank you, Governor Greitens and the life affirming legislators of the Missouri General Assembly.

Dear Ones,

Wanted to quickly share what has happened at the sidewalk in front of St Louis Planned Parenthood. We knew it was going to happen, 40 days have passed since the last incident.

Thank God for the laws passed for the safety of women by our caring life affirming legislators during the past special session--
-PP did NOT ask for the ambulance to come on the quiet as you can see from the email from our partners with Coalition for Life St Louis. Perhaps this saved this woman's life as the majority of ambulance runs are because of hemorrhaging, a life threatening event. PP previous protocol had asked for no lights or sirens. God please heal this woman, physically and spiritually and we pray for the conversion of all abortion workers.

And we thank all of the dedicated prayer supporters on the front lines who offer their lives in the hopes that abortion will end in our state and to hold PP accountable for their actions by documenting these atrocities.

From the St Louis Coalition for Life

Early this past Friday morning (August 4, 2017), our staff and volunteers witnessed yet another ambulance drive into Planned Parenthood St. Louis (4251 Forest Park Ave, St. Louis, MO 63108) with lights and sirens blasting at 10:45am.

Our team (Andrew, Donna and Jordyn) witnessed as the paramedics rushed into the abortion facility with a stretcher and medical bags in hand.

Just 15 minutes later at approximately 11 00am the paramedics departed Planned Parenthood with an unidentified patient on the stretcher with a white sheet covering them.

An armed security guard and Planned Parenthood employee dressed in surgical scrubs blocked the path of the stretcher as they traversed down the ramp. They were holding a large tarp used often in an attempt to hide that they had just injured a patient at their facility.

After loading the patient and stretcher into the ambulance the paramedics spent 9 minutes sitting in the parking lot. The ambulance left at approximately 11:09am with lights, siren and horn blaring as they pulled out of the parking lot.

This ambulance is the 67th medical emergency at this location (that we know of) since 2009. We witness, yet again, that the promise of "safe, legal, and rare" abortion is a lie.

Join me in praying for this person and for all who are suffering, both physically and emotionally from the damaging effects of abortion.

Thank you for your continued dedication and support.

For Life,
Brian Westbrook
 Executive Director
 Coalition For Life St. Louis
